

Name: Junhui He

Web Development Project
Task Breakdown

Task	Date Due (Planned)	Date Due (Actual)
1. See the common feature of great websites	3/18/18	3/18/18
2. Create low fidelity wireframes	3/19/18	3/19/18
3. Create a digital wireframes	3/19/19	3/20/18 (12:15AM)
4. Create user story log	3/20/18
5. Complete making a fancy header	3/21/18
6. Make the template for "main content"	3/22/18
7. Implement the main content to every needed page	3/23/18
8. Create the Visiting hours and the form	3/24/18
9. Create the footer	3/25/18
10. Make the website looks more beautiful (mostly the main page)	3/28/18

You can see the wireframe in the following website.
<https://balsamiq.cloud/sway15b/pmlqbf3>

The Logo is clickable, as most of the websites do! And the logo leads to this page, the index page!

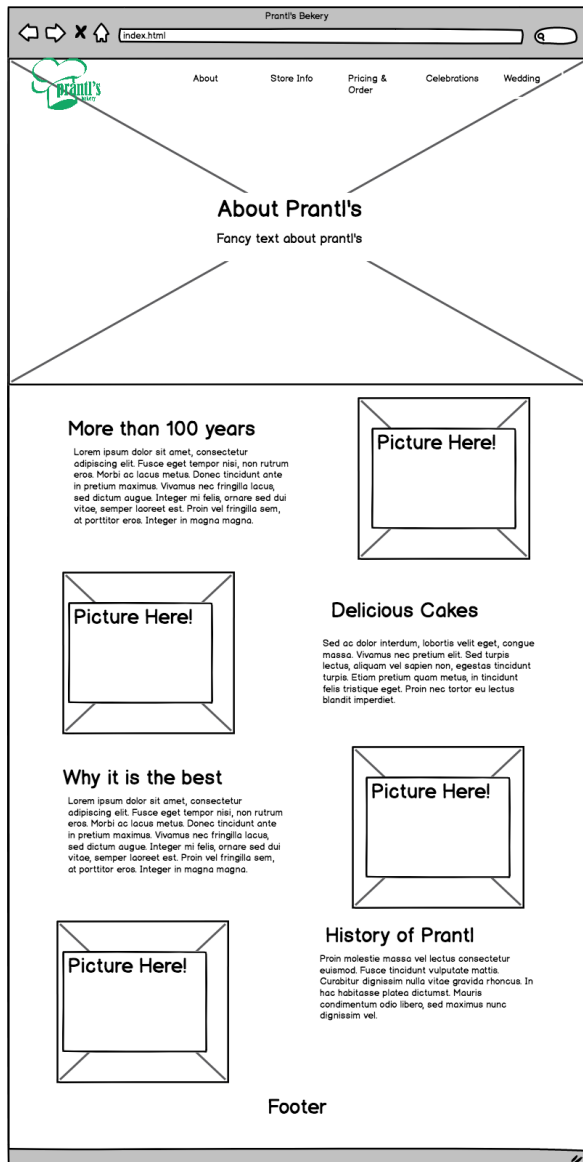

When the user scrolls down, the heading would automatically become the loving FIXED header in the page. The background of the header would be blackish (not this color, just an implication). When the user scrolls back to top, the header would automatically become "longer". The background would be invisible, and the Prant's logo would be larger. This special effect applies to ALL pages.

A link to an article about Prant's

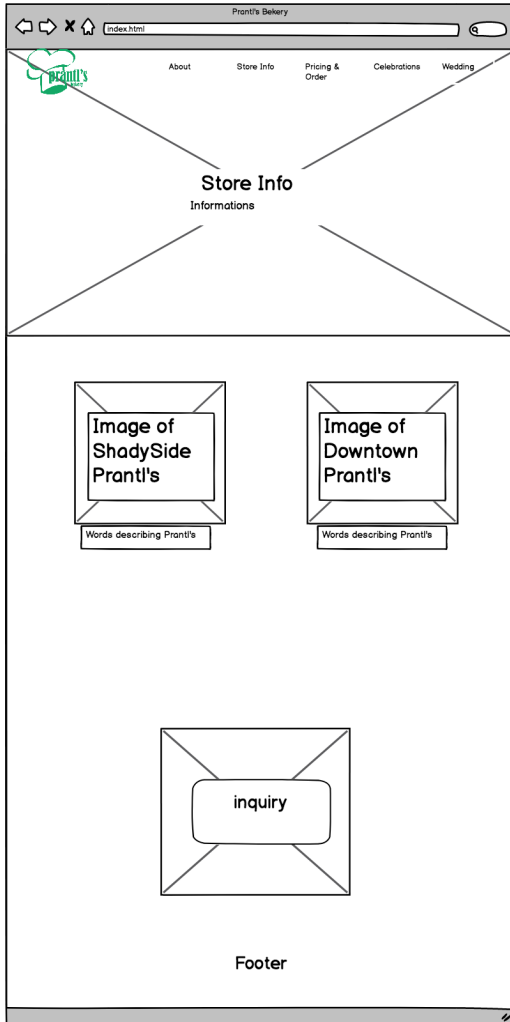

A link to Prant's original website order page

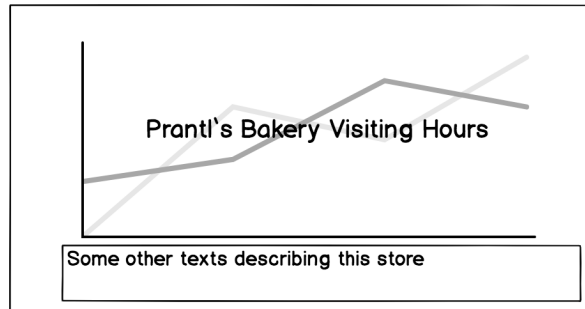

The picture is an IMAGE LINK to one of the article for the Prantl's, as required.

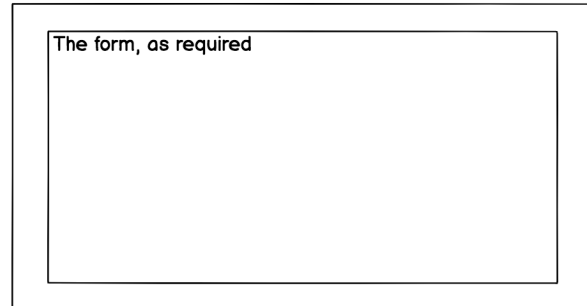

Up to this page, there are 3 links in total.
1 image link, 2 text link (actually they are bottoms which is consists of very tiny images)

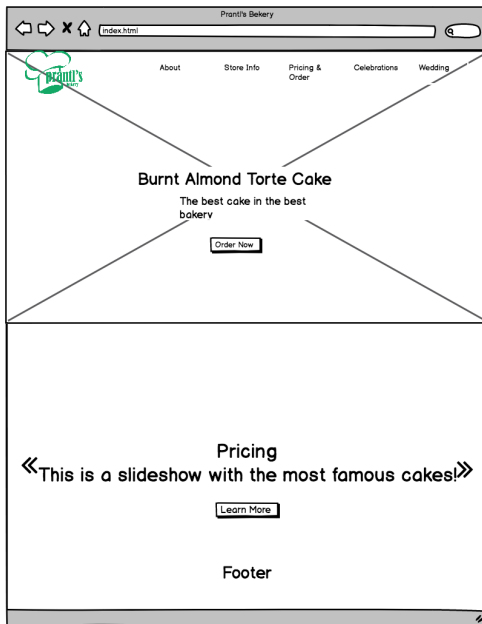

When the user click either one image, this page expands automatically!

When the user click the inquiry, this page expands automatically!

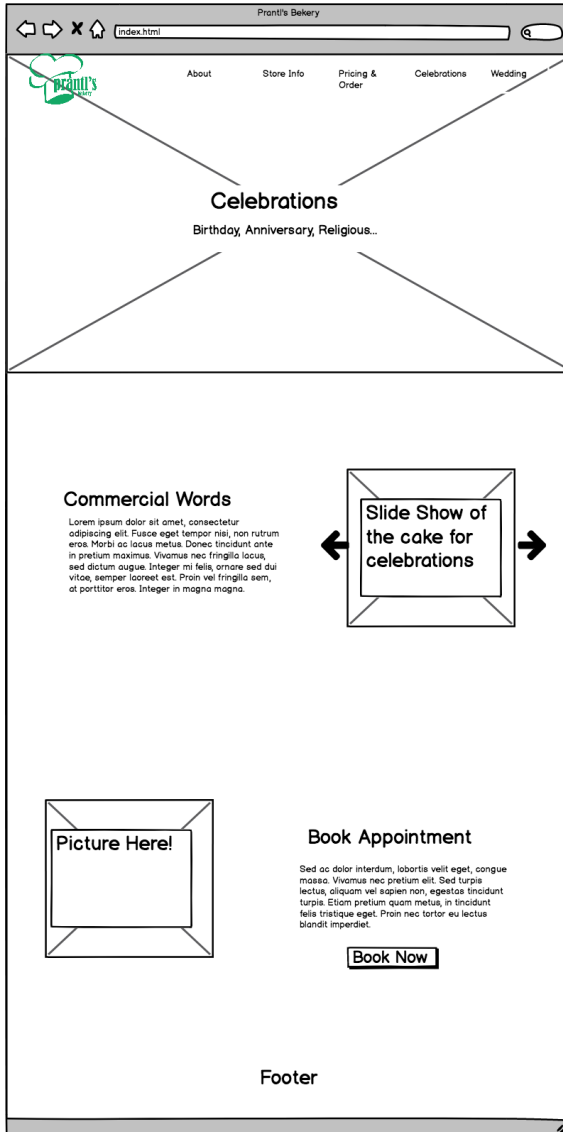

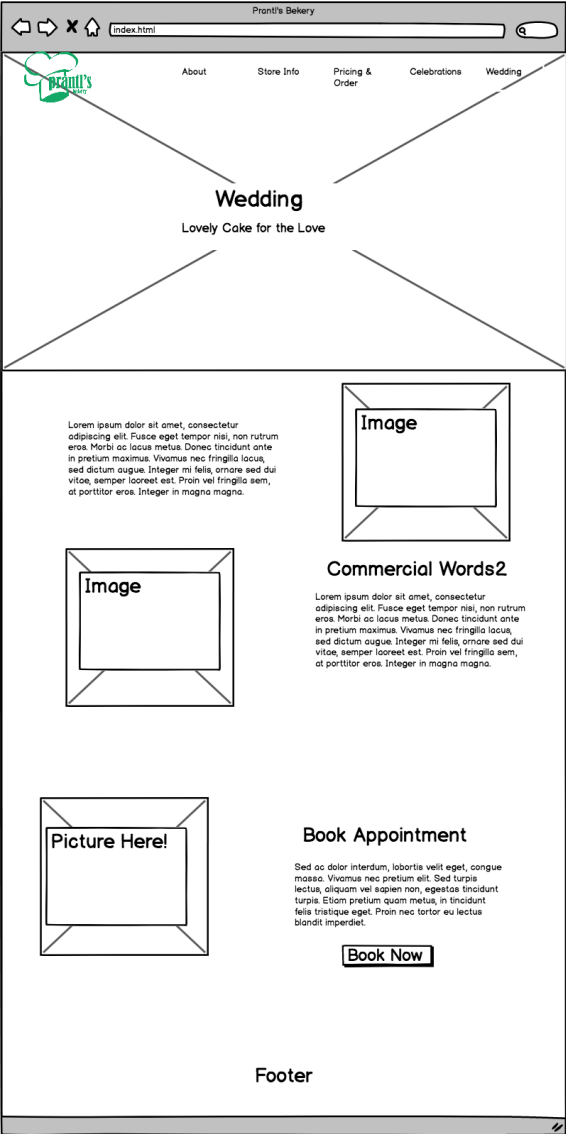

When the user click either one image, this page expands automatically!

This part is just for extra credit, should be the very last thing I will finish.
Just order the Burnt Almond Torte Cake because the requirement says the user can only place the order of Burnt Almont Torte Cake.
If I can't finish this part, just leave this page as an commercial of Burnt Almond and this page does not expand

The learn more is an link to prant's specific pricings.
Total of 4 links so far.

The learn more is an link to pranti's booking page.
5 links minimum accomplished. Cheerio!

This link is te link to the booking appointment